Subject: Request for more time to meet you

Dear Sir,
We are pleased to know that you find our embassy suitable for ~~your~~ professional dealing.
However, I might as inform you that we would not be able to supply the requisite material by the due date, i.e. March 15, 2016.

Please accept my heartfelt apologies for the same. You will already know that all schools are due to be opened on or before April 1st for the new academic session. We find our selves occupied with many events from various friends in Korea. If you would allow us 5 days additional time to compute your order, we would be highly obliged. I assure you an additional 5% discount and fast delivery of materials and service if that social condition is admissible to you.

If however, you are unable to accomodate us, we would be glad to return your advance of £29000 and look forward to future arrangements with your school.
Hoping for a favourable supply
Yours sincerely,
Manager

5. Yoga is the Sanskrit word for ~~sooth~~^{peace}.
No wonder it is the connecting link between the body and soul.

Good morning everyone, I am Rukha and today I stand before you to speak about the importance of ~~yoga~~ ^{yoga} for students.

Yoga is an ancient form of meditation and exercise which is known to benefit people from all walks of life. Students, however, can derive special benefits in terms of physical and mental health from the practice of this ancient ~~soul~~ ^{soul}. Who among us is prepared to say about the has discovered the power of this physical and mental abilities? Not many
I am sure.

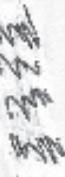

Friends, give yourself the gift of Yoga as experience during the harmony between the body and soul. Recently the United Nations Council recognised the importance of Yoga by declaring the world Yoga day. The ancient art of Yoga seeks to heal the body and soul through various breathing exercises. Beginners are encouraged to concentrate on their breathing to make it rhythmic and calm.

There are various posses we this exercise which are known to benefit patients suffering from chronic diseases such as blood pressure, diabetes and even Hypertension. Ramdas, the promoter of Patanjali group is at the helm of encouraging Yoga in the country. Recently, the newly elected Prime Minister, Mr Narendra Modi also talked about the benefits of Yoga. Students today have to deal with stress, physical health issues and pressure to perform. In such a scenario, Yoga is a tool waiting to be exploited.

Though, owing its origin to India, Yoga is currently practiced widely in all parts of the world. The World Health Organisation has recognised the benefits of breathing exercise (Pranayam) in dealing with pollution. A study published by the WHO claims that practicing breathing exercises strengthens the body's immune system to fight germs floating in the atmosphere.

I am sure when I am along once of benefits will set the tone for the practice to gather momentum in our school. However to add to this Apart, I would wish to inform you that practice of yoga premises and longer life and always the signs of ageing. Friends, start practicing yoga to lead with strong effectively.

Our young age gives us an advantage over the veterans. As we practice difficult postures and exercises, lets all work towards a student yoga resolution!

Positive Effects of Failure

by Robini

Failure is the stepping stone to success. A successful man cherishes his failures more than his success, because it is the failures that add to the sweetness of success. Impediments do put us down but they also act as a great teacher.

Successful men found several times before taking success. Abraham Lincoln suffered a nervous breakdown, failure in getting elected before he became the president of the United States of America.

Amitabh Bachchan, the guru at Bollywood actor gave surreal looks at the box office before hitting the bull's eye. Muhammad Ghazi lost 14 titles, before he could conquer Delhi from Puthi Raj Chauhan.

It is true that it is not easy to deal with failure. Being unsuccessful does damage and minimize a person. In such a situation it is important to recognize one's weaknesses and try to find out the reason for being unsuccessful. One should recognize that failures are natural part of a person's life and essentially part of the success story. For it is true that one has to fail to be successful.

When you fail make a SWOT (Strength, weakness, opportunity, Threat) analysis. Write down the sources of losing on a piece of paper and strategize on ways to defeat your weaknesses and benefit from your strengths. Careful planning and strategy going will keep you discover the sweetness of failure. Let the downfall become a source of infinite motivation to succeed. Do not let yourself be pulled down by criticism and harsh punishment, instead take advantage of them to turn pressure yourself to emerge stronger and more persistent.

So as to discover the positive effects of failure make the following lines of quote motto.
 " If I fail, I will try again and if I fail again I will try yet again. My failure is my major step to success."

They are known not to harm a human being unless a human being has harmed them. The author humans think birds are notorious for their cruelty yet the goodwill of the one is assuaged by mankind as it helps win pell-mell. Birds are welcomed graciously in the budworm in the morning. They alight at one's nose, one would be forced to stop breathing so as to prevent them. The author ~~says~~ birds from as they too have the same habit of mechanism as human beings.

(b) Paonit Jawaharal Nehru, in his last letter to his daughter, talks about danger. People fear danger as it keeps everyone at a distance. Paonit Nehru affirms that it is not too afraid if you have a close look at it. Danger too, like any other thing has its own benefits to offer. Sometimes, the dangerous dull and we no more take precedence in it. Yet, now we wish those same things which we have spent some time without them. Many people wish their life and family to experience the unpleasant situation that comes from a difficulty surrounding and a danger surrounding. Danger adds zest to life, our expectations get brighter and we, all of us, the discoverer happened in everyday events. Nehru says that it is our choice to decide whether the villains were, with their unhealthy mind and fog were offering a measure of bodily security for us to climb high mountains in greater ease than in the danger of climbing up the high mountain so suddenly beneath it we experience fresh air.

After using telecommunication from this natural known, silicon memory, I had the gift of a machine left on the discovered people. He caught the eccentric habit of regarding test procedure and hollow unharassed with the community. The weaker stopped did not practice any religion or go to church.

Having lost his youth in mom and god, silas arched in the sleepy town of Bangalore. It was a place very much unlike his home town. People of Bangalore did not practice their religion very daringly at his home down, Lantem yard. The weaver in the adjacent town was long dead and so, the bread was plentiful to parish. Since, he did not go to church he could all his earnings as himself which breed in such a small town should him an old stone cottage away from the many country towns. This town in itself town foolish coming man him, sent he would curse them. The village maidens did not come near him and had clearly espoused their virtuousness to never marry a dead man come as wife again.

 Such could for no man or woman and made all his arrangements for himself. The town people looked at him with suspicion due to strange fits and his knowledge of numbers.

Silas had once, helped Sally Gatus, who was suffering from insanity, out of pity. However, were in the gulf to help anyone to be cured of sunburn, the villagers thought him the evil one. Wish him away from him.

Silas suspected the golden sovereign to be formally threatened. To him the faces engraved on the coins were his renown.
He was anxious any purpose in his life but to keep gold. One day when he found his gold in the box, he and we were want display an child. He brought help from his neighbors.

Through the raised folk around all attempted to find the culprit but they were in vain. They buried the child, Silas, and sympathized with him. The tragedy made such a burden upon him. He would wander for years.

goodwill of his neighbors. Sunlight fell on him, but he was unable to tell where the went had. He imagined that gold laying at several places. His straw was like that of a confirmed ant which burdunly binds its woody pockeed body. The weaver kept his eyes open, thinking his gold would return somehow.

The next Christmas day he was surprised of his borrow with the arrival of Sophie. She became his purpose and he was able to observe the world or fresh through Sophie's eyes. As William was also with sunlight said.
